What is the “Heartland” of Attorney-Client Privilege?
Recent Developments Concerning the Privilege
The attorney-client privilege is a cornerstone of American jurisprudence and of the attorney-client relationship. In 2016, the California Supreme Court issued a decision that seemed to examine it in a new light, potentially eroding the privilege. Is the privilege still sacrosanct? Does the strength of the privilege depend on the forum? Expert panelists will discuss several decisions and verdicts involving in-house counsel’s use of privileged information in claims for retaliation or wrongful termination and the issues presented when a client’s capacity becomes impaired.

Pre-Immigration Income Tax Planning for High Net Worth individuals

When foreign high net worth individuals immigrate to the United States, comprehensive planning is typically required to minimize exposure to U.S. income taxes, while taking into account any non-U.S. tax consequences that may result from relocation to the United States. This session will discuss the key issues that typically must be addressed by such planning, including timing of the commencement of U.S. federal and state tax residency; strategies that can be implemented pre-residency in order to minimize U.S. tax following an individual’s residency start date; planning and reporting considerations for the period following his or her residency start date; and U.S. exit tax considerations.

Tax Residency: Unwelcome Status?
Tax residency (as well as U.S. citizenship) is the lynchpin of federal and California worldwide income taxation and the imposition of potentially onerous compliance burdens. This timely presentation will focus on the complex rules for determining an individual’s residency status for U.S. federal tax purposes and include comparisons with select state and foreign residency definitions.

California Franchise Tax Board Update
Join expert panelists in an open forum discussion regarding current FTB examination priorities and initiatives and recent changes in the California administrative appeals process involving the new Office of Tax Appeals.

Non-Traditional Issues Associated with the New Partnership Audit Rules, a.k.a. “Don’t Let Your Child Grow Up to be a Partnership Representative”
The panelists will focus on considerations and techniques for drafting partnership agreements looking forward to the new partnership audit rules, taking into account the rules’ potential application for both federal and state purposes. Controlling and funding the audit defense; partner cooperation; opting out; privileges; funding the imputed underpayment; auditing the dissolved or liquidated partnership; conflicts; and removal of the PR (for cause or just because) will also be addressed.

Pitfalls of Being (or Representing) a Cannabis Service Provider
All commercial cannabis business activities continue to be criminal activities under federal law. Experienced panelists will discuss the development and defense of criminal prosecutions of cannabis businesses. They will discuss the typical criminal issues that are likely to arise in the cultivation of cannabis and the manufacture of cannabis products as well as in the operation of a dispensary. They will also focus on the special gloss added to ordinary business chicanery by the recent history of the cannabis industry as well as the extensive state and local regulation imposed on the industry.
Partnership and Real Estate Hot Topics
Join speakers from the Tuesday daytime sessions as they discuss recent developments in partnership and real estate taxation.

When the Past Isn’t the Past: Correcting Prior Errors
This roundtable open discussion will include how and when to remedy previous non-compliance, including whether, when and how to pursue a voluntary disclosure regarding unreported income; misclassified expenses; employees paid in cash; misclassified workers; overstated inventory; and different approaches depending on whether there has been contact by federal or state taxing authorities (amending returns or providing schedules).

Practical and Hot Topics for Income Tax Planning for the Entrepreneurial Family
Join tax professionals who work with family businesses and high net worth individuals of all sizes as they discuss: hot and practical tax planning considerations in light of tax reform; intra-family financing and co-investing; basis and at risk considerations; COD; recourse vs. non-recourse financing; Section 267; and other tax planning issues entrepreneurial families are facing.

Tax Planning for the Highly Appreciated Stock Portfolio
The successful markets of the last several years mean that many individuals hold highly appreciated portfolios. As a result, taxpayers are often faced with a difficult choice, to either sell positions and pay significant capital gains tax or stay in concentrated holdings and accept market risk. This workshop will explore strategies that allow taxpayers to diversify while mitigating the tax impact.

Why are Lawyers so Unhappy?
This workshop will focus on substance abuse and mental illness in the legal profession, as well as conditions which may result in an attorney’s reduced ability to function psychologically, socially, occupationally or interpersonally. Coping strategies and treatment solutions will also be discussed.

1.5 hours of MCLE competence credit available.

Estate Tax Deductions, Section 2053 and Beyond
Currently, estate and income tax rates are very similar, requiring careful attention by all tax advisors seeking to minimize the overall estate and income tax liabilities of an estate or trust and its beneficiaries. Advisors must determine which obligations and which expenses can or should be taken as a deduction for estate or income tax purposes. The new reporting rules regarding uncertain or estimated expenses for estate tax returns (Form 706) also will be discussed. The panelists will share “war stories” as well as their collective words of wisdom and caution regarding the requisite considerations for all tax advisors in these uncertain “tax” times.

Hot Topics in Estate and Gift Tax Planning
Join top trust and estate professionals as they discuss hot topics in estate and gift tax planning. Bring your questions!

Fixing, Changing and/or Terminating Irrevocable Trusts
Although the term "irrevocable trust" would generally imply that a trust is unchangeable, in practical reality, the term "irrevocable" is often a legal misnomer. More flexibility currently exists to estate practitioners than ever before to alter irrevocable trusts to meet the continuing estate planning needs of clients. This workshop will provide guidance on the numerous legal mechanisms that can be utilized to facilitate reformation, modification, termination and decanting of irrevocable trusts.

Nonprofit Governance and Fiduciary Duties: Managing and Avoiding Conflicts of Interest
Learn about these important issues and more: fiduciary duties of nonprofit directors and trustees, including how many “hats” one person can wear; governance best practices; minimizing liability, including D&O policies; common conflicts of interest, such as co-investing and private foundations investing through the family office fund; cost-sharing: services vs. rents; director fees; gifts subject to debt and liabilities; personal pledges and ticketed fundraisers; current developments with Attorneys General; and tax reporting obligations, including what you must report and what you can and should report.
