USC Gould School of Law
Recruiting Policies and Offer Timing Guidelines
(Effective June 4, 2019*)

USC Gould School of Law subscribes to the National Association for Law Placement’s (NALP) Principles for a Fair and Ethical Recruitment Process https://www.nalp.org/principles. In addition, all stakeholders, including employers and students, must comply with USC Gould’s Career Services Office (CSO) policies and the University of Southern California’s Policy of Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action and Non-Discrimination https://policy.usc.edu/equal-opportunities/. Should any relevant party have questions or need clarification, please contact the CSO at careers@law.usc.edu.

General Provisions:

- Unless addressed elsewhere in these policies, all offers to Gould candidates, whether for summer employment or full-time employment following graduation, should remain open for at least two weeks after the date of the written offer letter.
- All offers should be confirmed in writing by an employer, with all relevant details, and with the offer letter date serving as the effective offer date for all timelines and deadlines.
- Employers should grant reasonable requests for extensions to students to whom they have extended offers.
- Students should familiarize themselves with employers’ individual recruiting policies.

Summer Employment Provisions for Second Year Students by OCI, Job Fair and NALP Member Employers:

Summer employment offers to students not previously employed by the employer

- Employers offering positions for the following summer to USC Gould School of Law candidates not previously employed by them should leave those offers open for at least 21 days following the date of the offer letter or until December 15, whichever comes first. Offers made after December 1 for the following summer should remain open for at least two weeks after the date of the offer letter.
- Gould candidates may request that an employer extend the deadline to accept the employer’s offer for an additional 7 days if the candidate is actively pursuing positions that require a longer time horizon for offer decision-making. Employers are encouraged to grant such requests.
- Gould candidates should reaffirm offers within 14 days from the date of the offer letter if an employer requests such reaffirmation in its offer letter. Employers that have requested this reaffirmation may retract any offer that is not reaffirmed within the 14-day period.

Summer employment offers to students previously employed by the employer

- Employers offering positions for the following summer to candidates previously employed by them should leave those offers open until at least 21 days following the date of the offer letter or the first day of Gould's on-campus interview program, whichever is later.

1L Law Students
Recognizing students’ attention during their first semester of law school should be focused primarily on their academic pursuits, USC Gould School of Law recommends employers focus their contact with 1Ls during this time on career exploration matters, rather than on employment-related contact. Employers wishing to connect with first year students, whether individually or collectively, may contact the CSO on how best to do so.

Timing of Soliciting Applications from 1L Students and Offer-decision window

- Employers should refrain from soliciting applications from first year students until December 1. Exceptions to this date may be considered on a case-by-case basis.
- Summer employment offers made by NALP member employers to first year law students should remain open for at least two weeks following the date of the offer letter.
- Non-NALP member employers should provide a reasonable decision-making window of one week and when possible grant a request for an extension should a student’s situation dictate.
